SHIP ON FIRE—THREE DAYS AT SEA

The Cape vessel Captain de la Cruz, of the late of the Oliver Cromwell, Capt. Jack, belonging to Mr. W. R. Price, of Australia, of 1,112 tons register, bound from Newcastle to Aden, with coal, when about 300 miles from Table Bay, on the 6th ult., a fire, which had been for a long time smouldering, broke out in the main holdway. Within less than three hours, the flames, which started from the deck, broke out in a great way, and the vessel was then abandoned. The crew, twenty-one in number, got in it. They had hardly time to provide themselves with a small quantity of water, a few tins of preserved meat, and a few biscuits, and ten minutes after the boat left the burning vessel, and fell with a crash. The Cape was the point made for, but the weather was so bad, and the boat so overloaded, that progress was very slow. Two or three were constantly employed in baling. At times the boat was completely swamped; the water dashing in, spilling the biscuits and water, and at length the crew became thoroughly exhausted and despondent. A vessel passed without observing the signals made by the crew, and they did not regain hope until they sighted Table Mountain. After this was done it took several hours of head pulling before the Bay of Plenty reached the Cape. The first ship lying in the offing, which proved to be the Gazoo, Capt. Sheppard, where they received all the care and succor needed by men in a state of such terrible exhaustion. Capt. Jack speaks in the highest terms of the conduct of the officers and crew throughout the trying ordeal to which they were subjected.

An Oswego brewer went to sleep in church, and died of the disease which took up the collection by remarking drunkenly, "That's all right; I work on this ground."

The Grand Lodge of Freemasons in Scotland held a funeral lodge in the Music Hall, Edinburgh, in honor of the memory of the late Lord Dalhousie, Master of the Grand Lodge of Freemasons in Scotland, and of Lord J. O. P. Murray, Deputy Grand Master. Suspicion being excited by the circumstances under which the house of a grocer near Haverstock Hill was found to be on fire, the occupier was prosecuted for arson. The prisoner, who was said to have removed some of his goods, and sent his wife and children out of the house, was brought up at the Marylebone Police court and remanded without bail.

"Zup, do you think Beech?" "Hush, Johnnie!" "But, papa, don't you think Beech?" "Did you hear me tell you to stop your noise, sir? I won't have you talking about these things. Go in and get your face washed." And Johnnie, with tears in his eyes, went to wash his face, and then he told his mother that he had been talking to Beech.

The Pope, in reply to an address from Roman women, spoke on the question whether a Catholic ought to accept election as a deputy to the Italian Parliament. The Holy Father said that a Catholic in the present would not be true as a deputy, because political passions would raise obstacles to the course he ought to pursue, and, moreover, the oath he would have to take would be another all greater obstacle.
